Left or Right? Stock Market Board to Be Economic Weather-vane

WASHINGTON — No appointment to a government body in years—possibly not even a new Cabinet—has aroused such discussion, pressure and heat as selection of the five appointees to the Stock Market Board.

For upon the men Roosevelt selects for these five posts depends not only the future national speculation during the next half decade but also the question of whether Roosevelt is swinging away from his Left of Center course to the definite Right.

Advice on these appointments has been deluging the White House like the Christmas mail. At one side of the deluge at times can be seen the hidden hand of Professor Moley, still a potent factor in steering the President and on the whole in favor of shacking Wall Street.

On the other side are a multitude of reactionary friends and influences, constantly floating trial balloons and the names of supposed sure-fire appointees to the Board.

Among these have been:

Thomas J. Watson, president International Business Machines, president Tabulating Machine Company, chairman Dayton Scale Company, director International Business Machines, Limited, Business Machines Company of Delaware, International Time Recording Company, Dictaphone Company, Western Electric Instrument Corporation, Chase National Bank. The Department of Justice has taken action against the first named for violation of the Anti-Trust Act.

Sidney J. Weinberg, prominent in the firm of Goldman-Sachs, and an organizer of the speculative Shenandoah and Blue Ridge companies during the days of the Coolidge bull market.

John M. Hancock, partner of Lehman Brothers, chairman of the Jewell Tea Company, director of Kelly-Springfield Tires, Kuppenheimer Clothes, Sears-Roebuck, Long-Bell Lumber, Brunswick-Balke-Collender, Kroger Grocery and Baking, Florsheim Shoes, Cluett, Peabody & Co., International Silver, Piggy-Wiggly, American Stores, Cuneo Press, American Investors, Van Raalte Collars, A. Stein and Company, Van Camp Packing Co., Van Camp Milk Co., Van Camp Products, Helena Rubinstein Inc., Kimberly-Clark Corp.

That Roosevelt will select a man with these affiliations seems doubtful, though the lightning may strike Hancock, who is a close personal friend of the President.

But that he will select one of definite conservative seems certain. This was indicated to Massachusetts Senator Walsh the other day, when Walsh heard that the President proposed to appoint Mayor Curley of Boston either to the Stock Market Board or the Wagner Labor Board.

This was a shock to Liberals. Curley is a distinct conservative and incidentally no political friend of Senator Walsh. Curley is, however, on the best of terms with Jimmy Roosevelt, eldest son of the President and aspiring political boss of Massachusetts.

Meanwhile the Stock Market battle still rages.

Loving Cup

President Roosevelt has offered a silver loving cup as the prize to the winner of a unique international race.

The race will be between William C. Bullitt, American Ambassador to the Soviet Government, and V. M. Molotov, Chairman of the Council of Peoples' Commissars—or, in other words, Premier of Russia.

The goal of the race is to see whether Bullitt can learn more Russian than Holotov can learn English in the same length of time—one year from June 1.

The judge of the race is Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Commissar of Foreign Affairs. He speaks both Russian and English.

Frank

One reason why Huey Long's colleagues seldom care to tangle with him is his devastating disregard of the usual amenities of Senatorial courtesy.

ASSEMBLY JOB EYED BY PAIR; DUNLAP READY

H. M. Crites, N. E. Reichelderfer Have Petitions in Possession

OPPOSE HUNSICKER

Dunlap Makes Statement of Candidacy

Reports were current today that two well known Circleville Democrats, H. M. Crites and Nelson E. Reichelderfer, are intending to toss their hats into the ring for representative to the general assembly, the post now held by Nathan Bohnert, Monroe-twp.

Both Crites and Reichelderfer have petitions in circulation but neither has filed making candidacy definite. The deadline is Friday at 6:30 p. m.

Should Crites and Reichelderfer enter the contest they will be opposed by Clark K. Hunsicker, chairman of the county Democratic central committee, who announced his candidacy quite a while ago. Mr. Bohnert, it is understood, will not be a candidate for anything. Marion Sensenbrenner is the only Republican in the race for representative, having launched his campaign before any other candidate for any office in the county.

DUNLAP ANNOUNCES

Renick W. Dunlap, of Pickaway and Kingston, will file his petition, Thursday, with the Rossco board of elections for representative in congress from the 11th district. He is a Republican and former assistant secretary of agriculture under Presidents Coolidge and Hoover.

Mr. Dunlap's statement of candidacy says: "The Eleventh Congressional (Continued on Page Two)"

COMMITTEE TO O. K. TUGWELL

Poll Shows 13 of 19 Members To Vote for Confirmation; In Long Hearing.

Sixteen of the 19 members of the committee voted to recommend the confirmation of Rexford G. Tugwell as assistant director of agriculture. One of the remaining three members was not present.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Senate today will receive a report from its agriculture committee overwhelmingly recommending confirmation of Prof. Rexford G. Tugwell as undersecretary of agriculture.

A poll made by the International News Service revealed that of the 19 members of the committee, 15 are friendly to the purported "arch-brain trust" of the administration. Thirteen announced definitely they would vote for confirmation and two said they probably would.

Senator Smith (D) of South Carolina, fiery committee chairman, is the only senator who has announced flatly that he will vote to discard Tugwell, but Senator Hatfield (R) of West Virginia said he "probably would line up that way."

TWO UNDECIDED

Senator McNary of Oregon, minority leader, and Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma are "undecided."

Most committee members said Tugwell made a "good showing" under questioning for nearly four and one-half hours before the committee yesterday. They stressed the fact that he had proclaimed himself as opposed to adopting the Russian form of government in this country, and as favorable to the constitution of the United States.

Sensors who will vote for Tugwell are Cutting (R) New Mexico; Hatch (D) New Mexico; Wheeler (Continued on Page Two)

FRENCH TO AGAIN DEFAULT ON DEBT

PARIS, June 12. — France will not pay the debt installment due the United States on June 15, it became definitely known today.

The council of ministers decided to maintain the debt attitude taken in December 1932 when France stopped its annual payments to the United States.

The council voted to continue the no-payment policy with but one dissenting vote. That was the vote of Edouard Herriot, former premier of France, who was voted out of the office in 1932 for insisting that the United States be paid.

Tugwell Grilled By Senators

Here is Prof. Rexford G. Tugwell, whose nomination as undersecretary of agriculture has yet to be approved by the Senate, snapped on the witness stand, in Washington before the Senate agricultural committee. He was on the stand for several hours, denying allegations that he is a dangerous radical.

4 AMERICANS DEAD IN SOUTHERN CRASH

Trans-Andean Plane Falls in Water in Buenos Aires; Many Injured

BUENOS AIRES, June 12.—Five persons were killed, four of them Americans, it was determined today, when details of the crash of a Pan-American Airways Trans-Andean plane in an isolated section of Buenos Aires province at last were relayed back to the capital.

The dead were: Charles F. Lindenberg of Los Angeles, pilot; Samuel E. Eisenmann of New York, co-pilot; Senora De Martinez de Santiago, Chile; H. Grieg Weeder, Jr., Bethlehem Steel company engineer, and James Raley of Louisiana, radio operator.

The injured were: Charles E. Colonna, representative of the Lambert Pharmaceutical company of St. Louis; Max Smith of Santiago, Chile, steward; Carlos Alessandri, nephew of the president of Chile; Vincent Molis of Buenos Aires, and Senora Milla of Santiago, Chile.

CLUNG TO WINGS
The survivors clung to the wings of the plane four hours before they were rescued by the one small boat on the shores of the lake.

Gauchos swam their horses out almost two miles to the wreckage of the plane which was in shallow water but could not bring the wounded in. Senora Martinez, whose legs were broken, died just as rescuers were preparing to remove her. Both Eisenmann and Raley were newlyweds.

Mrs. Eisenmann, 26, of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Raley, 21, of Brownsville, Texas, had recently come to South America and taken an apartment in Buenos Aires.

SEARCH FOR AUTO IN CRASH ASKED

Zanesville Man, Who Forgot Name of Driver, Asked Aid of Sheriff Radcliff.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff today was pushing his search for information concerning the whereabouts of a Columbus automobile which figured in an auto wreck at 104 Sunday evening in which two Zanesville women were painfully hurt.

The driver of the Columbus car stopped after the accident and gave Louis Frank of Zanesville, driver of the other car, his name and address but in the excitement, Frank forgot the information.

Both Frank and H. S. French, whose wives are resting in Berger hospital, appeared at the sheriff's office Tuesday morning and asked that the search be pressed for the driver of the other car. It is believed the driver is a resident of Columbus.

LEACH TO APPEAR

John Leach, S. Clinton-st., is scheduled for hearing before Mayor W. B. Cadv. Tuesday, on a charge of assault and battery, filed by his wife.

He was arrested at 9:15 p. m. Monday by Officers Smith and Radcliff.

RED HUSBAND KILLS WOMEN, BEHEADS SELF

Fayette-co Coroner to Return Verdict of Double Murder, Suicide

SHOTGUN WEAPON

One of Women Also Decapitated by Blast

WASHINGTON C. H., June 12.

Coroner C. C. Hazard was expected to return a verdict of double murder and suicide, Tuesday, in the deaths of Lee Day, 42, D. T. & L. railroad engineer and foreman; his wife May, 36, and her sister, Miss Martha Jones, 26.

Day, officers say, shot and killed both women then turned the gun on himself. The head of one of the women was blown off; so was Day's.

The triple tragedy was discovered by farmers between this city and Good Hope, seven miles south of this city, who heard shots and hurried to the scene.

Day and his wife had quarreled frequently, friends claimed. She and her sister worked in a candy factory here. Recently they had made their home with Day in Good Hope.

ICENHOWER CALLED

Reconstructing the crime, Sheriff W. H. Icenhower said Day must have driven from his home in Good Hope toward Washington C. H., parking his automobile across the highway. Mrs. Day and her sister were returning from work in Miss Jones' automobile.

Sheriff Icenhower said Day stopped the women's automobile, stepped from his own car with a single-barreled shotgun, walked over to the halted automobile where his wife and sister-in-law sat and then fired at the pair. Which of the women was shot first is not known.

After killing the women Day sat down on the running board of the automobile and pulled the trigger.

"STRIKE WOULD INCLUDE OHIO"

—SAYS DONNELLY

"If General Strike is Called All Ohio Mill Workers Will Walk Out Too."

COLUMBUS, June 12.—"If a general steel strike call is issued, there will be a general walkout in Ohio mills," Thomas J. Donnelly, veteran labor leader and secretary of the Ohio State Federation of Labor, predicted today.

Donnelly was interviewed as a statewide survey indicated that a majority of men in the steel mills in the state were opposed to the strike called by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers for the coming Saturday. "Never fear," said Donnelly, "if there is a strike call, there will be a strike."

He pointed out that a minority of workers could close down a steel mill by picketing even if a majority of men were opposed to it.

However, he stressed the fact that the Amalgamated Union was not depending on a minority to make its strike effective. The veteran labor leader declared that he believed that at least 50 per cent of the steel workers as yet had taken no stand but that they would align themselves with the Amalgamated in the event of a strike.

"If a strike is called," he reiterated, "there will be a general cessation of work in steel mills."

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Waites of E. Mill-st. announce the birth of a son, Monday.

Caterpillars Plague Canada; Delay Train

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., June 12.—Blotting out the landscape in a great cloud, a swarm of caterpillars today plagued this section of Canada.

They held up the Winnipeg train for over two hours when stragglers from the swarm settled on the track and prevented the wheels from gripping.

The insects attacked poplar trees, stripping them of leaves and branches.

TAKE BODIES FROM PLANE

Identification of Seven Killed in Transport Plane Difficult Task.

LIVINGSTON MANOR, N. Y., June 12.—A burned and tattered plane stood on its nose in the mire atop "Last Chance" mountain today as a grim monument to the tragedy which befell the seven persons aboard the 16-passenger condor of the American Air lines.

The charred remains of the stewardess, pretty Margaret Huckleby, Pilot Clyde Holbrook, a veteran of the World War with 10,000 flying hours to his credit, his co-pilot, John "Tat" Barron, of Chicago, and four passengers, Harry H. Pinsky, Great Neck, L. I. W. E. Bader, W. A. Case, and H. C. Coppins, all of Buffalo, were removed from the mangled mass of steel and canvas during the night by an unrelenting crew of state troopers under personal command of Captain Daniel E. Fox.

JOB DIFFICULT ONE

Hundreds of natives and curious lined the steep slope of Dunnead Mountain, called "Last Chance" by residents in this vicinity, throughout the night while state troopers toiled through the tangled underbrush, foliage and wending their way perilously around large trees to bring the bodies down from the 2,500-foot perch.

As yet, state police have been unable to establish positive identification of the dead because of the disfigured condition of the bodies.

Reconstructing the tragedy, H. L. Devlin, a close personal friend and former co-pilot with Pilot Holbrook, whose dogged determination to locate his "pal," was largely responsible for finding the plane so soon, said he believed Holbrook was flying low to avoid the heavy fog which blanketed Sullivan-co Saturday night.

"Clyde reported to Newark, N. J., at 5:35 p. m. that he was over Newburgh and 'everything okay.' 'That was the last time he was heard from."

EVADING WEATHER

"Speaking as a pilot, I believe that Clyde ran into heavy weather and decided to turn northwest, instead of following the usual course (Continued on Page Two)"

Fishermen Capture Octopus at Norfolk

NORFOLK, Va., June 12.—Paul Sherwood and M. T. Jerrold admitted today they "must have had some expressions" on their faces while they were tugging on their fishing line in Hampton Roads.

With all their might they pulled and tilted their small rowboat and both said they almost fainted when they found their catch was a huge octopus and saw it start to entwine one of its yard-long tentacles around the side of their boat. Fearing it would overturn their craft they killed it with ears. It weighed 60 pounds.

Fairfield Playground Project Is Approved

Miss Leist is survived by two nieces, Mary and Carolyn Leist of Columbus, and by a nephew, Jesse Muriett of Indiana.

CONVICT 2 BANKERS

LANCASTER, June 12.—Two former Hamden, Vinton-co, bankers faced prison terms today after they were found guilty by a jury in Fairfield-co common pleas court of falsifying their books in an effort to receive an examiner.

The convicted men are E. W. Martindill, cashier, and Paul Whitte, assistant cashier of the Hamden Citizens' bank.

The men were arrested after the bank closed in 1931. The trial was brought here after a change of venue was granted following a disagreement of the jury in a former trial.

COX IN CAPITAL

Report West Desired by F. D. R.'s Group

COLUMBUS, June 12.—Lashing at reports that he would withdraw his candidacy for United States senate and moving doggedly forward even in the face of what may become a historic split in the Ohio Democratic party, Gov. George White today declared that he was in the race for the Democratic nomination for senator to stay.

His statement was aimed at a sensational out-cropping of political reports that followed his trip to Washington, D. C., to confer with the president. It was rumored here that the governor had been offered a diplomatic post if he would withdraw from the primary fight for the senatorship.

More confusion was added to the political situation on almost the eve of the final day for filing of candidacies by the trip of Former Governor James Cox to Washington. Cox, in Washington, denied that he had been asked by the president to become a candidate for the senate as a "compromise" candidate.

HAS NO DESIRE

"Nor have I any desire to do so," he was quoted as saying.

Other reports circulating at the state house mentioned Congressman Charles West, (D) of Granville as a "last minute" candidate for the senate post, Former Gov. Vic Donahue already has filed and there also was a possibility that Congressman-at-large Charles V. Truax might enter the contest.

The national administration, according to some reports, was entertaining some doubt as to whether or Gov. White, if he secured the nomination at the primaries, could actually carry the state. Other rumors said that White had been offered a diplomatic post to halt (Continued on Page Two)"

WIDOW NAMED IN F. S. GORDON WILL

His widow receives the bulk of the estate of the late Frank S. Gordon, this city, according to his last will and testament filed in probate court, Tuesday.

At his widow's death, the will stipulates that the following bequests be carried out: To the trustees of the Otterbein Home for the Aged, Lebanon, O., $500; trustees of Trinity Lutheran church, Circleville, $100, and to Charles Gordon, Columbus, $300.

E. S. Neuding, H. S. Heffner and Lawrence Goeller have been appointed to appraise the estate.

Nubian Lion Attacks King, Trainer at Fair

CHICAGO, June 12.—Set upon by a large Nubian lion in the live animal cage at the World's Fair, Allan King, widely known animal trainer, today nursed a slashed right arm.

King was handling 32 lions and tigers in the cage last night when the beast chose a moment when the trainer's back was turned and attacked. King was knocked to the floor but saved himself by beating the lion with a whip. A chair he was carrying was torn from his grasp.

A thunderstorm had made the animals nervous.

King left the exposition grounds and went to a hospital for treatment of his wounds. He was given an injection of anti-tetanus serum.

Straw-board Captures 10-5 Tilt; Wins in 6th

A series of inexcusable errors capped by a triple by Irv Trimmer and a double by Walter Brungs cost the Purina Chows a victory over the undefeated Container Corporation team Monday evening. The final score was 10-5 in favor of the straw-boarders who remain on top of the heap with but one week to go in the first round.

The Chows found the Container Corporation defense pregame in the first and sixth innings to score two runs each time. As the last of the sixth came up the Chows were leading 4-0 with excellent first basing by Zeke Zelmer, who reached high and wide for many throws, doing much in keeping the straw-boarders away from the platter.

ERR ON EASY CHANCES

Watson, the first C. C. of A. batter to the plate, was an easy out. Greeno to Zeimer, then the fireworks started. Bill Robinson tried to catch Strawser's fly with his chest and it bounced all over the outfield. The batter taking second, G. Brungs shot a warm grounder to Roby at short who in turn tossed it to Greeno at third to head off Strawser. Greeno dropped the ball and both hands were safe. Trimmer then cleared the paths with his triple to right. Lawhorn was safe when Roby threw high to first base and W. Brungs doubled him home before Stevens walked. Whaley singled and so did R. Brungs. Watson and Strawser ended the inning on a fly and a ground ball.

The damage was done, and the Chows did never again threatened although Pug Fowler hit a home run between two automobiles in left field.

The straw-board added a marker in the seventh and two in the eighth.

Raymie Brungs was on the mound for the winners and handed out only seven hits, errors being directly responsible for all the Chows' runs. Sands was the Chows' pitcher. He got by well in the early rounds being touched for hits in the first five innings but

FEEDS VERSUS OILS

Tonight the Eshelman Feeds with Eddie Callahan on the firing line will take on the Circleville Oils. This contest should be a good one with both team playing pretty good ball at this time. It is not certain whether Purcell or Joe Barnes will be on the mound for the Oil team.

Jim Dade and Charlie Scott umpired Monday's tilt.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

THE BIG SPORT NEWS THIS week is the fight for the heavy-weight championship of the world between Prima Carnera, Italian title-holder, and Max Baer, Livermore, Calif., playboy. The fight is Thursday in Madison Square garden and it is going to be broadcast by the National Broadcasting Co. over a national chain.

The fight comes on the air at 9 o'clock Circleville time. The fight is the first worthwhile heavyweight bout since Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney staged the fiasco in which the latter was the recipient of the 14-count decision, some think, seven years ago.

GRAHAM MCNAMEE WILL HANDLE THE MICROPHONE FOR THE NEC FORCES

Exhibition games are being booked by many of the local recreation ball teams. The Mecca outfit goes to Stoutsville tonight to meet a pretty good team—Cum Robinson has also scheduled an exhibition in Columbus this week—Friday evening, providing there are no postponed games in the league this week, will find a Chillicothe team coming here to meet the Container corporation.

TWO OF THE BEST LEFT fielders in the league will vie for honors tonight with Joe Barnes performing for the Circleville Oils and John Valentine for the Eshelman Feeds. Both have been playing good ball with the latter possibly shading the Oil gardner in games played to date. It is also possible Barnes will climb on the mound so that would eliminate the contest.

HURST TO CHICAGO, CAMILLI TO PHILS

CHICAGO, June 12.—Don Hurst, veteran Philadelphia National league first baseman, traded uniforms with the Cubs' rookie, Dolph Camilli, today for the opener of a series between the teams at Wrigley Field.

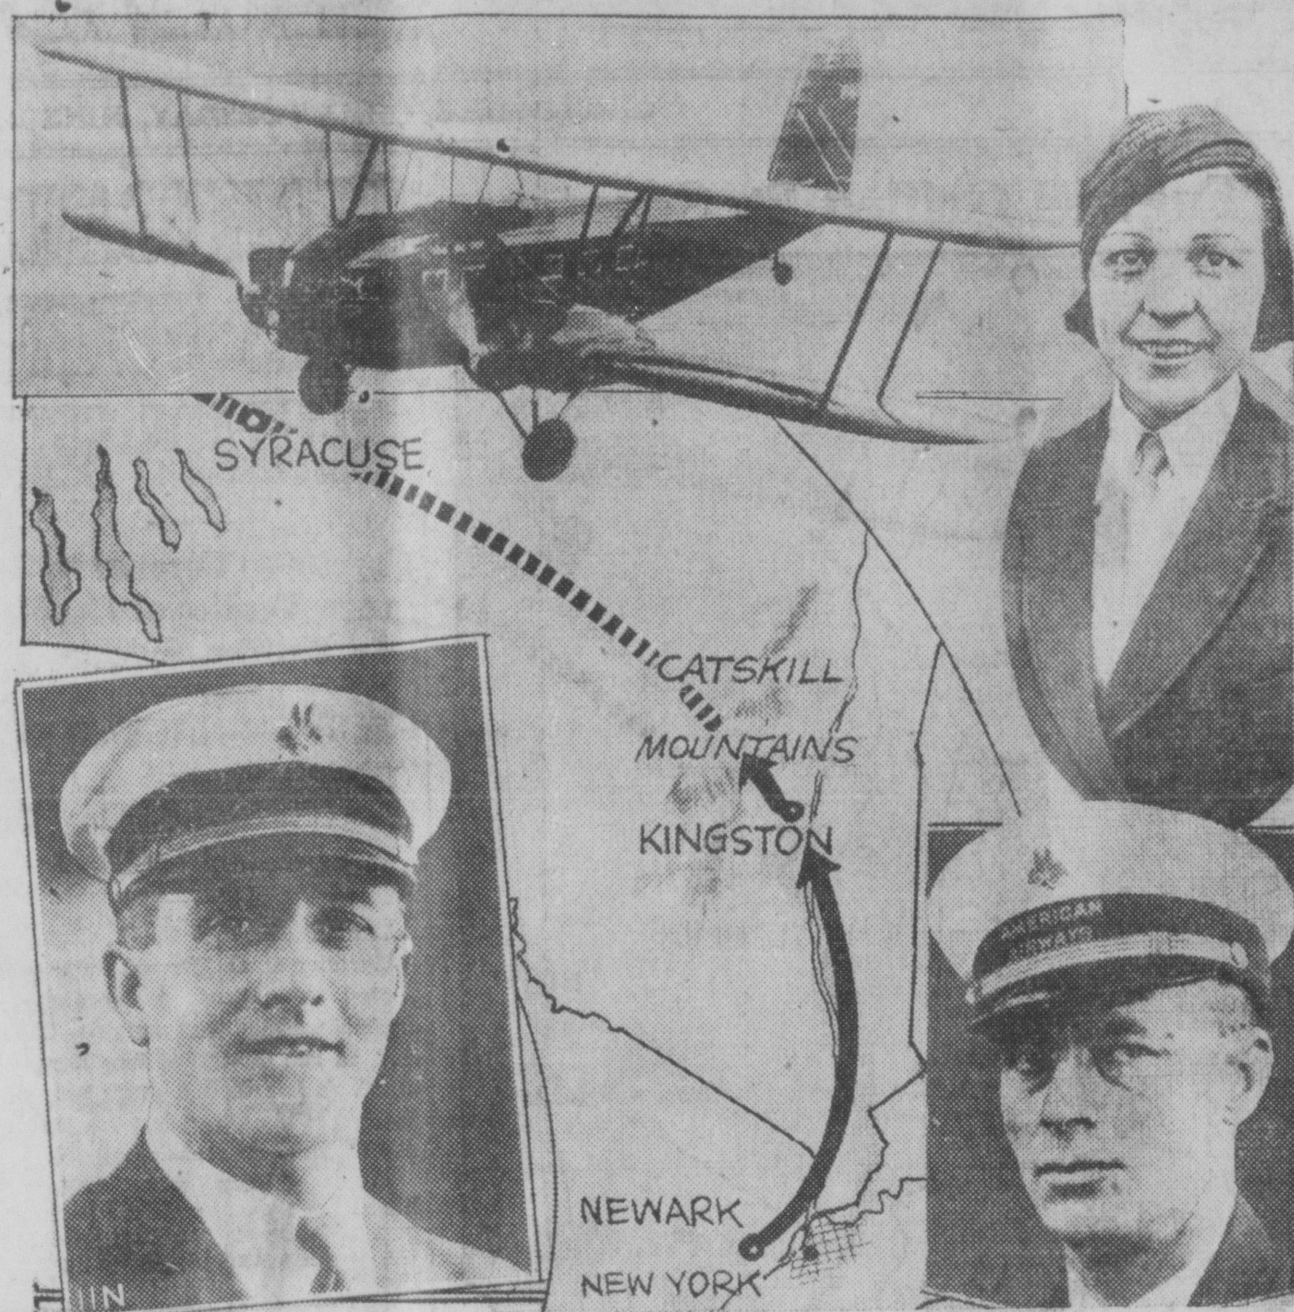

It was an even exchange that resulted in the two clubs swapping first basemen, President William Walker of the Cubs announced.

Although Hurst has a six year batting average of .305 the two players were hitting about the same, around .260 when the trade was made. Hurst hit .339 in 150 games in 1932 for his best mark in the majors, but fell off last season to .267.

Because Manager Charley Grimm is still suffering from a leg injury Hurst was expected to be put right to work today at first base.

Camilli came to the Cubs at the close of last season from Sacramento and has been acting as understudy to Grimm, but the Cubs' manager decided, it was explained, that he needed a player of greater experience as reserve for the position.

Where Missing Airliner Crashed in Catskills

The map in the above layout shows the area, near Kingston, N. Y., where a Chicago-bound airliner, carrying a crew of three and four passengers, crashed near the top of one of the rugged Catskill mountains after leaving Newark, N. J., enroute to Syracuse, its first stop. The plane was piloted by Capt. Clyde Holbrook, lower left, and "Tat" Barron, lower right, co-pilot. Stewardess Margaret Huckleby, right, was the third member of the crew. All died in the crash.

district is an agricultural and industrial district. Its citizens are intelligent and dependable and stand for high American ideals.

"My experience in farming and business together with my knowledge of administration of public affairs, I believe equips me particularly to serve the people of the Eleventh district and the country at large.

"If nominated and elected I shall serve all the people of the district to the best of my ability."

Mr. Dunlap will be opposed for the Republican nomination by Thomas White, of Fairfield-co., who has already filed with the Ross-co board. It is necessary petitions for district elections be filed in Ross-co since that county is the greatest populated of the district.

State Senator James E. Ford, of Chillicothe, who will oppose Garrett S. Claypool, also of that city, for the nomination of state central committeeman from the 11th congressional district, comprising Pickaway-co., will also seek another term in the Ohio Senate.

He has filed his petition with the Ross-co board of elections. He represents the fifth and sixth senatorial district.

John W. Hay, Harrison-tw-p, candidate for the Democratic nomination for his second term as county commissioner, filed his petition with the board of elections, Tuesday.

Probable votes for Tugwell are Senators Frazier (R) of North Dakota, and Shipstead (Farmer-Laborite) of Minnesota.

Despite the certainty of the result, as attested by the poll, Chairman Smith believes the committee will reject Tugwell.

"The hearing yesterday made me more against Dr. Tugwell than I was before," he declared. "His writings are radical and he knows little of practical farming. Why, he said he worked on the farm only during vacations from college."

Hatfield said he might alter his general policy of favoring confirmation of all presidential appointments.

"Dr. Tugwell is a super-factionist, a misfit and should be eliminated," Hatfield asserted. "I was amazed that he repudiated statements made in his book published in May, 1933."

Proponents of Tugwell, however, said he had convinced the committee there was no reason to withhold his confirmation.

There was little likelihood of an immediate Senate vote on confirmation. Objection of only one member will suffice to delay a vote for 24 hours under the rules.

NEW PRICES CHANGE THE PICTURE

IF YOU READ the papers last week you probably saw that Plymouth had substantially reduced its prices. Unless you are in the automobile business you probably don't realize just what this means.

It means the prices of "all three" are now so close you can well afford to dismiss that factor from your mind. What you should think about today is WHAT YOU GET FOR YOUR MONEY.

For instance, take this question of SAFETY. Surely nothing is more important than the protection of your family.

When you put your foot on the brakes you want your car to stop RIGHT IN ITS TRACKS.

When emergencies happen you don't want to depend on ordinary brakes that often make your car skid and swerve dangerously.

With Hydraulic Brakes you can jam the pedal down to the floor and STOP DEAD. The marks on the pavement will track straight ahead.

Even if Plymouth COST MORE it would be worth it . . . just for this one feature alone. But add to this the security of a Safety-Steel Body . . . the comfort of Floating Power engine mountings . . . the smoother ride of Individual Front Wheel Springing . . . and remember you get these features in Plymouth without spending one extra red cent.

Don't buy your next car through habit. Don't be blind to the changes that have taken place in the low price field. Go look at a Plymouth today . . . at any Dodge, DeSoto or Chrysler dealer. Buy no car until you do.

Highway Patrol Districts Now 4

COLUMBUS, June 12.—With the approval of the governor and of State Highway Director O. W. Merrill, Col. Lynn Black, state highway patrol superintendent, today re-divided the state into four highway patrol districts. Originally there were six—at Toledo, Ravenna, Sidney, Delaware, Cambridge and Chillicothe.

Under the new arrangement the four districts will have headquarters in Findlay, Massillon, Wilmington and Athens. These districts will include the following patrol outposts, or sub-stations: Findlay district—Defiance, Perrysburg, Bellevue, Marion and Lima.

Massillon district—Mansfield, Medina, Painesville, Warren, Salem, Bridgeport and Newark.

Wilmington district—Middle-town, Troy, Springfield and Portsmouth.

Athens district—Chillicothe, Lancaster, Zanesville and Marietta.

Colonel Black said the re-division was made because of the geographical advantage afforded in providing uniform coverage of the state in the operation of the patrol radio system.

Small Crops

IN former years information that the farmers had harvested big crops of wheat, cotton, corn, and other staples, was the best kind of news. The sun of prosperity was considered to be running high when these great harvests were gathered in. The nation rejoiced over the bounty of nature, people began to spend more money, and an impulse of new prosperity was felt in every village.

But today, what a contrast exists! We are now told that the crops have been more seriously damaged than at any time for the past 50 years. And yet this is considered good news. The more the crops fall off, the higher the prices of stocks and bonds go, and the more confidence the country feels.

It sometimes seems as if the whole nation had been stood on its head, as if we were living in a kind of Topsy-Turvy country. It seems like the tale of "Alice in Wonderland," where everything is opposite to what you might expect.

It is not conceivable that a succession of poor crops could be considered a helpful development. But at a time when the farms have been producing more than the country is able to buy, and when great surpluses have been carried over from previous years, it is not so strange that a poor crop for one year will be helpful in bringing about more normal conditions. The farmer will not be at so great an expense to cultivate, harvest, and ship his small crop, and the greatly increased price should give him some profit for the year.

It is said that people eat just as much in hard times, but this is doubtful. Innumerable families have bought food recently as sparingly as they could. When the mills and shops run a full time, the family that ate but meagerly because it was fed on unattractive leftovers will have good square meals again. The crops will move to the consumer as they use to. But if the farmers form the habit of producing more than the market can buy, they will be headed for permanent insolvency.

One objection to early marriages is youth's tendency to forget swell ankles can't cook.

Business, Winning or Losing?

IN order to attract business, people have to give an impression that they are winners. If they act as if they are losers, people dislike to patronize them, and they are likely to lose still more.

People judge whether a business is a winner or a loser, in part by the exterior appearance of the building in which it is located. A man may be an excellent business person, a hustler, and determined to please the public. But if he is located in a building that looks shabby or run down, people get an unfavorable impression.

But if that building could be improved, painted if it needs it, or otherwise made to look clean and up-to-date, it will be a suggestion that that business is doing well, and is able to please and satisfy the people, and that impression will draw in trade.

But if the bridegroom's parents weep, that is an insult to the bride and all of her kin.

Inflation may cause lack of confidence, but it doesn't work that way when it affects heads.

Males may be smarter, but you never saw a pretty boy take along a homely one to provide contrast.

People used to think their enemies stood in the way of their success. Most of the people's enemies now are in themselves, in their own indifference and laziness.

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE

"And now I must be getting on—I'm having dinner with Marcia and Ned." Drew felt for his cigarette case, passed it to Perry.

"Thanks, I'll have one of my own if you don't mind."

"Not at all, Well," he picked up his coat, slung it over his shoulder, turned to Stanley, "it's been a nice afternoon, Stanley. It was an entertaining experiment, though one might wish it had ended differently. However, your uncertainty was enchanting." He smiled at her, held out his hand. "Thank you for the tea—and the kiss. They were both—delightful."

"You were entirely welcome to both." She walked with him to the door, gave him her hand. "Good-bye, Dearest," he nodded carelessly at Perry, turned to Stanley and made, perhaps, the most perfect gesture of his career. He smiled straight into her eyes and said in a voice which admitted nothing but light amusement, "Good-bye, Stanley, we've much to remember—I could wish we had more to regret."

"Darn his impertinence!" exploded Perry hotly, as the door closed behind him and Stanley came slowly back to the tea table. "What did he mean by that?"

"Exactly what he said," She brushed her fingers wearily across her eyes.

"For heaven's sake, what's this all about, anyway?"

"Don't be an ass, Perry, it was obvious enough."

"Not to me."

"Well, I told you, didn't I? I wanted to find out whether I still loved him."

"But why in heaven's name drag me into it?"

"I wanted you here—in case I found out I still did."

She felt very tired, like a person who has struggled for a long, long time and suddenly can struggle no more. She wished Perry would go away and leave her alone.

But he didn't. He sat there opposite her, and scowled at her and said, "It's too darn complicated for me, darlin'."

"Yes, it's all of that."

Something in her voice then caught his attention. He stared at her soberly out of half-closed blue eyes. "You didn't by any chance find out that—what you still did?"

Stanley sighed softly, sat down in the wing chair and laid her head wearily against his chest back. "I guess I knew—I guess I didn't have to find out. Only it isn't love I feel for Drew Armitage."

"You see," she went on, trying painfully to explain it to him, "that's where I made my mistake in the beginning, Perry. I thought it was love and it wasn't. That was why I couldn't reconcile things. I couldn't understand how, still wanting Drew as I did, I could love John Harmon. I think he understood." She paused to stare intently into the deepening shadows of the room.

"And if I hadn't been here, Stanley?"

"I don't know. I might have sent him away this time but some other time—I wouldn't have. You see I know myself—my weakness and my strength—and I despise the one and do not trust the other. But it doesn't matter now—there will never be another time."

"How can you be sure of that?"

"Perry brought her eyes back to Stanley frowned a little impatiently. "For a person ordinarily so comprehending there are times, Perry, when you are positively obtuse. Drew will never come back again because I have committed the unpardonable sin—I've made him appear ridiculous. You agree with me, don't you, that there's nothing so fatal to passion as a ridiculous impression."

But if that building could be improved, painted if it needs it, or otherwise made to look clean and up-to-date, it will be a suggestion that that business is doing well, and is able to please and satisfy the people, and that impression will draw in trade.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Dr. J. H. Snook, Ohio State university professor, has been arrested in the Theora Hix death.

John Kain, of Williamsport, was injured in a slide at the Sturm-Dillard gravel washer.

Lawrence Jeffries graduated with honors from the Cincinnati law school.

15 YEARS AGO

Congressman Ed. Ricketts has been appointed on four committees in the house of representatives, merchant marine, good roads, pensions, and enrollment of bills.

Harry Stout has purchased the tailor shop of the late Joseph M. Groom.

Lyman Bell has delivered a new 5-passenger Studebaker to Sol D. Riegel.

25 YEARS AGO

Clerk of Courts H. W. Plum

Perry stood up abruptly. "I can't leave you here like this—alone."

sure? He won't be able to forget it easily, he'll most certainly never forgive it."

She laughed suddenly. It wasn't nice laughter—it had tears in it and a sort of desperate mirth. That leaves everything nicely disposed of until we get to John Harmon. She hesitated, then went on deliberately. "I can't just see him in this new picture."

Perry knit his forehead in a puzzled frown, lit another cigarette, spoke abruptly. "I'm afraid I'm hopelessly muddled up. Sorry to appear stupid, but you're talking riddles. Stanley, you love him, don't you, or have you suddenly discovered that, too, has been a mistake?"

If Stanley heard his question, she did not appear to. She continued slowly: "He said once that if the time ever came when I felt I wanted something else more than I did him, that I was to go quickly before I destroyed what we had already had—that there wasn't to be any second-best between us. Well, I do want something else more than I want him—I want Drew—and just because I am too great a coward to go through with it doesn't make it any different—any less true. If I stayed now, I would be breaking my promise to him. I can't do that—so I'm going."

"Ye gods, Stanley, you're mad! Utterly mad! You admit yourself that this feeling you have for Drew is no new thing—you knew about it when you married John Harmon—he knew about it. Now when you've finally decided to shut it out of your life forever, you propose to shut a very real and honest relationship out with it?" Perry was trying hard to get a hold on things, to keep his head.

Stanley shook her head. "What you don't understand is that that very relationship is no longer real or honest. It ceased to be last night when I saw Drew Armitage and realized once and forever what he meant to me. Until then I had given John Harmon honesty and a certain very real affection. I am still going to give him honesty—I could never give him anything less. Well, it's rather a fiasco, isn't it, Perry? I've made a rotten mess of things."

"I would say you are about to make a more rotten mess of them. Promise me you won't do anything definite about this until John Harmon comes home?"

"I'll promise that, Perry. I couldn't do anything to spoil his trip."

"Yet you'll spoil his whole life—quite coolly and deliberately?"

"Aren't you being a little cruel, Perry?"

He leaned toward her, even as Drew had done, until his eyes were on a level with her own. "Perhaps, but remember this, Stanley. I've loved you for a long time and I've seen you love two other men. It hasn't always been easy or exactly pleasant, but because it meant your happiness I haven't minded too much. But now you ask me to stand by and let you deliberately destroy that happiness—that's something else again, Stanley."

She looked at him with a sort of troubled entreaty, answered him swiftly: "But don't you see, Perry, the happiness that you mean, that existed between John Harmon and me is already destroyed—nothing that you can say or I can do can change that. We've had some very beautiful moments—nothing I would ever be of any use to us."

Perry stood up abruptly, like all intuitively active people he found it almost impossible to keep still when he was emotionally excited. "I can't leave you here like this—alone."

"But I won't be alone, Perry, Valerie will be in any time now—she won't let me do anything desperate—even if I wanted to, which I don't. I'm not a very spectacular person, Perry, I can't imagine jumping off a bridge or taking horrid tasting poison."

"Stanley! Stop talking like that—I won't let you." He seized her wrists, held them fiercely, shaking her to stop the spasm of hysterical laughter which had swept over her. She quieted suddenly, pushed his hands away. "Sorry, Perry. I'm quite all right, now. Run along, won't you? Valerie will be here any minute now."

"Sure you're quite all right, Stanley?"

"Positive." She smiled at him quietly and quite suddenly he bent and kissed her lips for the second time in his life. Then he left her as she had asked him to do.

Early Care Is Needed in Pyelitis

This Infection of the Kidneys Is Common
In Young Children

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City

RECENTLY I received a letter from a physician who specializes in the practice of urology. That specialty is devoted to diseases of the kidney and bladder. The doctor wrote that "pyelitis," a common infection of the kidney, is often the result of negligence and in many instances could be prevented. He asked me to write on this subject and emphasize the importance of early recognition and care of this disease.

Pyelitis, as its name implies, is an inflammation of the pelvis of the kidney. The pelvis is that part of the kidney where the urine collects before it passes into the ureter. The ureter is the tube or passageway that carries the urine to the bladder.

Pyelitis can often be traced to a localized infection of some remote part of the body. Infection in the tonsils, nasal sinuses or teeth, may be the underlying cause. For example, a child suffers from infected tonsils and the poisons are absorbed into the circulation. They may then be carried to the kidney and produce pyelitis.

This disease is a common affliction of young children and infants. Unfortunately, it is often overlooked in these sufferers and because it is not controlled serious damage is done to the kidneys. Of course, pyelitis may also attack adults. In older persons it is sometimes the result of an obstruction somewhere in the kidney, ureter or bladder. In elderly males it is often the result of an enlarged prostate gland.

As a rule, the patient has a constant fever. He complains of slight pain or discomfort in the region of the kidney. But persistent headache, nausea, vomiting, loss of appetite, and digestive disturbances, are symptoms that should not be overlooked.

Treatment consists of special diet, urinary antiseptics, particularly getting rid of the underlying point of infection. The diet should be simple, nutritious and bland. Salt, pepper, spices, pickles and other condiments should be avoided. I can think of no better advice than to encourage the drinking of copious amounts of water. In fact, it is recommended that in this ailment at least one glass of water be taken every hour.

The urinary antiseptic will be prescribed by the physician who is familiar with the case. There are a variety of these antiseptics, but they should be taken only on the advice of your doctor.

Periodic examination of the urine is of the utmost importance. In suspected cases of pyelitis, urinalysis will reveal pus cells, blood cells and give other evidence to confirm the diagnosis. In many instances, unsuspected cases of pyelitis are discovered by a careful examination of the urine.

Repeated attacks of pyelitis are a menace to the future health and function of the involved kidney. Every effort should be made to reduce the dangers of infection to the kidney. Unless care is taken of them, serious and permanent damage may occur to these vital organs.

Richey-Drum Nuptials Read at St. Joseph's Church Tuesday

At a very impressive wedding ceremony in St. Joseph's church, Tuesday morning, Miss Marie Richey, daughter of Mr. Eugene Richey, Walnut-st., and Mr. Thomas J. Drum, son of Mrs. John Drum, W. Mound-st., were united in marriage.

Rev. Fr. J. J. Herman officiated at the nuptial high mass at 7:30 o'clock in the presence of the families and a number of friends.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Eleanor Snyder sang "Because" and following the mass Mr. Joseph Burns sang "O Promise Me" and "At Dawning." Mrs. George G. Aroom accompanied the numbers and played the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin for the bridal party's entrance and Mendelssohn's wedding march for the recessional.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Howard, of Columbus, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, attended the couple as best man and matron of honor.

The bride, an attractive young woman, was pretty in a powder blue crepe suit, trimmed with hand embroidery. She wore a large white hat, white mitts and slippers. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses, delphinium and baby breath.

Mrs. Howard was attired in a pink crepe suit with matching accessories. Her flowers were pernet roses and blue delphinium.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast for thirty relatives and close friends was served at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lyle, W. Mound-st.

Colorful spring flowers decorated the home and white was carried out in the bride's table appointments. White tapers lighted the table over which hung a large white bell. A bowl of beautiful white lilies was an artistic centerpiece. Small cakes wrapped in cellophane and tied with a white bow were favors for the guests.

Seated at the bride's table with the bride and bridegroom were Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Mr. Richey, the bride's father, Miss Virginia Richey, sister of the bride, Mrs. Drum, mother of the bridegroom and Mr. Lyle.

After the breakfast the couple left on a short wedding trip and upon return will be at home to their friends at 729 S. Court-st.

For traveling the bride chose a white linen suit with white accessories.

Mrs. Drum is a graduate of the Circleville high school, class of '32. Mr. Drum is custodian at the Circleville Athletic club and the Armory.

They Taste Better!

We like telling you that Luckies are made of only clean center leaves. For the clean center leaves are the mildest leaves—they cost more—they taste better. And we're proud of the fact that these choice tobaccos receive the benefit of Lucky Strike's famous process—"It's toasted" for throat protection. But here's a point that's just as impressive: Luckies are round, firm, fully packed with long golden strands of fine tobacco—no loose ends. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out. Truly Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat.

Left or Right? Stock Market Board to Be Economic Weathervane

WASHINGTON — No appointment to a government body in years—possibly not even a new Cabinet—has aroused such discussion, pressure and heat as selection of the five appointees to the Stock Market Board.

For upon the men Roosevelt selects for these five posts depends not only the future national speculation during the next half decade but also the question of whether Roosevelt is swinging away from his Left of Center course to the definite Right.

Advice on these appointments has been deluging the White House like the Christmas mail. At one side of the deluge at times can be seen the hidden hand of Professor Moley, still a potent factor in steering the President and on the whole in favor of shackling Wall Street.

On the other side are a multitude of reactionary friends and influences, constantly floating trial balloons and the names of supposed sure-fire appointees to the Board.

Among these have been: Thomas J. Watson, president International Business Machines, president Tabulating Machine Company, chairman Dayton Scale Company, director International Business Machines, Limited, Business Machines Company of Delaware, International Time Recording Company, Dictaphone Company, Western Electric Instrument Corporation, Chase National Bank. The Department of Justice has taken action against the first named for violation of the Anti-Trust Act.

Sidney J. Weinberg, prominent in the firm of Goldman-Sachs, and an organizer of the speculative Shenandoah and Blue Ridge companies during the days of the Coughlin bull market.

John M. Hancock, partner of Lehman Brothers, chairman of the Jewell Tea Company, director of Kelly-Springfield Tires, Kuppenheimer Clothes, Sear-Roback, Long-Bell Lumber, Brunswick-Balke-Collender, Kroger Grocery and Baking, Florsheim Shoes, Cluett, Peabody & Co., International Silver, Piggly-Wiggly, American Stores, Cuno and Blue Ridge, American Van Raalte Collars, A. Stein and Company, Van Camp Packing Co., Van Camp Milk Co., Van Camp Products, Helena Rubinstein Inc., Kimberly-Clark Corp.

That Roosevelt will select a man with these affiliations seems doubtful, though the lightning may strike Hancock, who is a close personal friend of the President.

But that he will select one definite conservative seems certain. This was indicated to Massachusetts Senator Walsh the other day, when he proposed to appoint Mayor Curley of Boston either to the Stock Market Board or the Wagner Labor Board.

This was a shock to Liberals. Curley is a distinct conservative and incidentally no political friend of Senator Walsh. Curley is, however, on the best of terms with Jimmy Roosevelt, eldest son of the President and aspiring political boss of Massachusetts.

Meanwhile the Stock Market battle still rages.

Loving Cup

President Roosevelt has offered a silver loving cup as the prize to the winner of a unique international race.

The race will be between William C. Bullitt, American Ambassador to the Soviet Government, and V. M. Molotov, Chairman of the Council of Peoples' Commissars — or, in other words, Premier of Russia.

The goal in the race is to see whether Bullitt can learn more Russian than Holotov can learn English in the same length of time — year from June 1.

The judge of the race is Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Commissar of Foreign Affairs. He speaks both Russian and English.

Frank

One reason why Huey Long's colleagues seldom care to tangle with him is his devastating disregard of the usual amenities of Senatorial courtesy.

ASSEMBLY JOB EYED BY PAIR; DUNLAP READY

H. M. Crites, N. E. Reichelderfer Have Petitions in Possession

OPPOSE HUNSICKER

Dunlap Makes Statement of Candidacy

Reports were current today that two well known Circleville Democrats, H. M. Crites and Nelson E. Reichelderfer, are intending to toss their hats into the ring for representative to the general assembly, the post now held by Nathan Bohnert, Monroe-twp.

Both Crites and Reichelderfer have petitions in circulation but neither has filed making candidacy definite. The deadline is Friday at 6:30 p. m.

Should Crites and Reichelderfer enter the contest they will be opposed by Clark K. Hunsicker, chairman of the county Democratic central committee, who announced his candidacy quite a while ago. Mr. Bohnert, it is understood, will not be a candidate for anything. Marion Sensenbrenner is the only Republican in the race for representative, having launched his campaign before any other candidate for any office in the county.

DUNLAP ANNOUNCES

Renick W. Dunlap, of Pickaway and Kingston, will file his petition, Thursday, with the Rossco board of elections for representative in congress from the 11th district. He is a Republican and former assistant secretary of agriculture under Presidents Coolidge and Hoover.

Mr. Dunlap's statement of candidacy says:

COMMITTEE TO O. K. TUGWELL

Poll Shows 13 of 19 Members To Vote for Confirmation; In Long Hearing.

Sixteen of the 19 members of the committee voted to recommend the confirmation of Rexford Tugwell as assistant director of agriculture. One of the remaining three members was not present.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Senate today will receive a report from its agriculture committee overwhelmingly recommending confirmation of Prof. Rexford Tugwell as undersecretary of agriculture.

A poll made by the International News Service revealed that of the 19 members of the committee, 15 are friendly to the purported "arch-brain trust" of the administration. Thirteen announced definitely they would vote for confirmation and two said they probably would.

Senator Smith (D) of South Carolina, fiery committee chairman, is the only senator who has announced flatly that he will vote to disqualify Tugwell, but Senator Hatfield (R) of West Virginia said he "probably would line up that way."

TWO UNDECIDED

Senator McNary of Oregon, minority leader, and Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma are "undecided."

Most committee members said Tugwell made a "good showing" under questioning for nearly four and one-half hours before the committee yesterday. They stressed the fact that he had proclaimed himself as opposed to adopting the Russian form of government in this country, and as favorable to the constitution of the United States.

Senators who will vote for Tugwell are Cutting (R) New Mexico; Hatch (D) New Mexico; Wheeler

FRENCH TO AGAIN DEFAULT ON DEBT

PARIS, June 12.—France will not pay the debt installment due the United States on June 15, it became definitely known today.

The council of ministers decided to maintain the debt attitude taken in December 1932 when France stopped its annual payments to the United States.

The council voted to continue the no-payment policy with but one dissenting vote. That was the vote of Edouard Herriot, former premier of France, who was voted out of the office in 1932 for insisting that the United States be paid.

Tugwell Grilled By Senators

Here is Prof. Rexford G. Tugwell, whose nomination as undersecretary of agriculture has yet to be approved by the Senate, snapped on the witness stand, in Washington before the Senate agricultural committee. He was on the stand for several hours, denying allegations that he is a dangerous radical.

4 AMERICANS DEAD IN SOUTHERN CRASH

Trans-Andean Plane Falls in Water in Buenos Aires; Many Injured

BUENOS AIRES, June 12.—Five persons were killed, four of them Americans, it was determined today, when details of the crash of a Pan-American Airways Trans-Andean plane in an isolated section of Buenos Aires province at last were relayed back to the capital.

The dead were: Charles F. Lindenberg of Los Angeles, pilot; Samuel E. Eisenmann of New York, copilot; Senora De Martinez of Santiago, Chile; H. Grieg Weeder, Jr., Bethlehem Steel company engineer, and James Raley of Louisiana, radio operator.

The injured were: Charles E. Colonna, representative of the Lambert Pharmaceutical company of St. Louis; Max Smith of Santiago, Chile, steward; Carlos Alessandri, nephew of the president of Chile; Vincent Molla of Buenos Aires, and Senora Milla of Santiago, Chile.

CLUNG TO WINGS

The survivors clung to the wings of the plane four hours before they were rescued by the one small boat on the shores of the lake.

Gauchos swam their horses out almost two miles to the wreckage of the plane which was in shallow water but could not bring the wounded in. Senora Martinez, whose legs were broken, died just as rescuers were preparing to remove her. Both Eisenmann and Raley were new arrivals.

Mrs. Eisenmann, 26, of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Raley, 21, of Brownsville, Texas, had recently come to South America and taken an apartment in Buenos Aires.

SEARCH FOR AUTO IN CRASH ASKED

Zanesville Man, Who Forgot Name of Driver, Asked Aid of Sheriff Radcliff.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff today was pushing his search for information concerning the whereabouts of a Columbus automobile which figured in an auto wreck at the intersections of Routes 22 and 104 Sunday evening in which two Zanesville women were painfully hurt.

The driver of the Columbus car stopped after the accident and gave Louis Frank of Zanesville, driver of the other car, his name and address but in the excitement, Frank forgot the information.

Both Frank and H. S. French, whose wives are resting in Berger hospital, appeared at the sheriff's office Tuesday morning and asked that the search be pressed for the driver of the other car. It is believed the driver is a resident of Columbus.

LEACH TO APPEAR

John Leach, S. Clinton-st., is scheduled for hearing before Mayor W. B. Cary, Tuesday, on a charge of assault and battery, filed by his wife.

He was arrested at 9:15 p. m. Monday by Officers Smith and Radcliff.

RED HUSBAND KILLS WOMEN, BEHEADS SELF

Fayette-co Coroner to Return Verdict of Double Murder, Suicide

SHOTGUN WEAPON

One of Women Also Decapitated by Blast

WASHINGTON, C. H., June 12.—Coroner C. C. Hazard was expected to return a verdict of double murder and suicide, Tuesday, in the deaths of Lee Day, 42, D. T. & L. railroad engineer and foreman; his wife May, 36, and her sister, Miss Martha Jones, 26.

Day, officers say, shot and killed both women then turned the gun on himself. The head of one of the women was blown off; so was Day's.

The triple tragedy was discovered by farmers between this city and Good Hope, seven miles south of this city, who heard shots and hurried to the scene.

Day and his wife had quarreled frequently, friends claimed. She and her sister worked in a candy factory here. Recently they had made their home with Day in Good Hope.

ICENHOWER CALLED

Reconstructing the crime, Sheriff W. H. Icenhower said Day must have driven from his home in Good Hope toward Washington, C. H., parking his automobile across the highway. Mrs. Day and her sister were returning from work in Miss Jones' automobile.

Sheriff Icenhower said Day stopped the women's automobile, stepped from his own car with a single-barreled shotgun, walked over to the halted automobile where his wife and sister-in-law sat and then fired at the pair.

Which of the women was shot first is not known.

After killing the women Day sat down on the running board of the automobile and pulled the trigger.

"STRIKE WOULD INCLUDE OHIO"

—SAYS DONNELLY

"If General Strike is Called All Ohio Mill Workers Will Walk Out Too."

COLUMBUS, June 12.—"If a general steel strike call is issued, there will be a general walkout in Ohio mills," Thomas J. Donnelly, veteran labor leader and secretary of the Ohio State Federation of Labor, predicted today.

Donnelly was interviewed as a statewide survey indicated that a majority of men in the steel mills in the state were opposed to the strike called by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers for the coming Saturday.

"Never fear," said Donnelly, "if there is a strike call, there will be a strike."

He pointed out that a minority of workers could close down a steel mill by picketing even if a majority of men were opposed to it.

However, he stressed the fact that the Amalgamated Union was not depending on a minority to make its strike effective. The veteran labor leader declared that he believed that at least 50 per cent of the steel workers as yet had taken no stand but that they would align themselves with the Amalgamated in the event of a strike.

"If a strike is called," he reiterated, "there will be a general cessation of work in steel mills."

"All Human Beings Not Living At High Speed"—Dr. Jones; "Man To Continue"

Dr. Howard Jones, Circleville's oldest physician, believes that Dr. George W. Cline's conclusion in a recent book that humanity faces extinction as a result of the present "high-speed" living, is "an other of our present speculative guesses."

The conclusion of the noted Cleveland surgeon, Dr. Jones maintains, is not true on at least one score, because all humans are not living at a "high-speed."

Dr. Cline, a close friend of Dr. Jones, explains in his book, "Dis-eases Peculiar to Civilized Man," that the danger of extinction arises from the tendency of civilization, especially "high-strung" modern life, to stimulate too frequently

Caterpillars Plague Canada; Delay Train

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., June 12.—Blotting out the landscape in a great cloud, a swarm of caterpillars today plagued this section of Canada.

They held up the Winnipeg train for over two hours when stragglers from the swarm settled on the track and prevented the wheels from gripping.

The insects attacked poplar trees, stripping them of leaves and branches.

TAKE BODIES FROM PLANE

Identification of Seven Killed in Transport Plane Difficult Task.

LIVINGSTON MANOR, N. Y., June 12.—A burned and tattered plane stood on its nose in the mire atop "Last Chance" mountain today as a grim monument to the tragedy which befell the seven persons aboard the 16-passenger condor of the American Air lines.

The charred remains of the stewardess, pretty Margaret Huckleby, Pilot Clyde Holbrook, a veteran of the World War with 10,000 flying hours to his credit, his copilot, John "Pat" Barron, of Chicago, and four passengers, Harry H. Pinsky, Great Neck, L. I., W. B. Bader, W. A. Cass, and H. C. Coppins, all of Buffalo, were removed from the mangled mass of steel and canvas during the night by an unrelenting crew of state troopers under personal command of Captain Daniel E. Fox.

JOB DIFFICULT ONE

Hundreds of natives and curious lined the steep slope of Dunmead Mountain, called "Last Chance" by residents in this vicinity, throughout the night while state troopers toiled through the tangled underbrush, foliage and wending their way perilously around large trees to bring the bodies down from the 2,500-foot perch.

As yet, state police have been unable to establish positive identification of the dead because of the disfigured condition of the bodies.

Reconstructing the tragedy, H. L. Devlin, a close personal friend and former copilot with Pilot Holbrook, whose dogged determination to locate his "pal," was largely responsible for finding the plane so soon, said he believed Holbrook was trying to avoid the heavy fog which blanketed Sullivan-co. Sunday night.

"Clyde reported to Newark, N. J., at 5:35 p. m. that he was over Newburgh and 'everything okay,'" Devlin said. "That was the last time he was heard from."

EVADING WEATHER

"Speaking as a pilot, I believe that Clyde ran into heavy weather and decided to turn northwest, instead of following the usual course

Fishermen Capture Octopus at Norfolk

NORFOLK, Va., June 12.—Paul Sherwood and M. T. Jerrold admitted today they "must have had some expressions" on their faces while they were tugging on their fishing line in Hampton Roads.

With all their might they pulled and tilted their small rowboat and both said they almost fainted when they found their catch was a huge octopus and saw it start to entwine one of its yard-long tentacles around the side of their boat. Fearing it would overturn their craft they killed it with oars. It weighed 60 pounds.

After Senate Job; Says Roosevelt Did Not Ask Him to Quit

COX IN CAPITAL

Report West Desired by F. D. R.'s Group

COLUMBUS, June 12.—Lashing at reports that he would withdraw his candidacy for United States senate and moving doggedly forward even in the face of what may become a historic split in the Ohio Democratic party, Gov. Charles White today declared that he was in the race for the Democratic nomination for senator to stay.

His statement was aimed at a sensational out-cropping of political reports that followed his trip to Washington, D. C., to confer with the president. It was rumored here that the governor had been offered a diplomatic post if he would withdraw from the primary fight for the senatorship.

More confusion was added to the political situation on Monday, the eve of the final day for filing of candidacies by the trip of Governor James Cox to Washington, D. C., where he was expected to be named by the president to become a "compromise" candidate.

HAS NO DESIRE

"Nor have I any desire to be quoted as saying."

Other reports, circulating in state houses mentioned Governor Charles White, (D) of Ohio, as a "last minute" candidate for the senate post, because of his Donahay already being there also was a large crowd of Congressmen at large.

The national administration, according to some reports, was entertaining some doubt as to whether Mr. White, if he secured nomination at the primary, would actually carry the state. Other rumors said that White had been offered a diplomatic post if he

Nubian Lion Attacks King, Trainer at Fair

CHICAGO, June 12.—Set upon by a large Nubian lion in the live animal cage at the World's Fair, Allan King, widely known animal trainer, today nursed a slashed right arm.

King was handling 32 lions and tigers in the cage last night when the beast chose a moment when the trainer's back was turned and attacked. King was knocked to the floor, but saved himself by beating the lion with a whip. A chair he was carrying was torn from his grasp.

A thunderstorm had made the animals nervous.

King left the exposition grounds and went to a hospital for treatment of his wounds. He was given an injection of anti-tetanus serum.

Straw-board Captures 10-5 Tilt; Wins in 6th

of inexcusable errors by a triple by Irv Trimmer. Double by Walter Brungs. The Purina Chows a victory. The undersated Containier team Monday evening. The score was 10-5 in favor of the straw-boarders who remain in the heap with but one to go in the first round.

The Chows found the Containier defense pregame in the first and sixth innings to score runs each time. As the last of the sixth came up the Chows were 4-0 with excellent first base by Zeke Zeimer, who reached high and wide for many throws. Much in keeping the straw-boarders away from the platter.

ERR ON EASY CHANCES
Watson, the first C. C. of A. to get to the plate, was an easy out. Greeno to Zeimer, then the new works started. Bill Robinson tried to catch Strawser's fly with a chest and it bounced all over the outfit. The batter taking second, G. Brungs shot a warning to Robinson at short who was passed it to Greeno at third to catch off Strawser. Greeno dropped the ball and both hands were safe. Zeimer then cleared the paths with his triple to right. Lawhorn was safe when Roby threw high to first base and W. Brungs doubled in home before Stevens walked.

Thaley singled and so did R. Brungs. Watson and Strawser scored the inning on a fly and a ground ball.

The damage was done and the straw-board never again threatened. Though Pug Fowler hit a home run between two automobiles in the field.

The straw-board added a mark in the seventh and two in the eighth.

Raymie Brungs was on the mound for the winners and handed out only seven hits, errors being largely responsible for all the straw-board runs. Sands was the Chow pitcher. He got by well in the early rounds being touched for only one in the first five innings but nine bingles were chalked up in the last three rounds.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

THE BIG SPORT NEWS THIS week is the fight for the heavyweight championship of the world between Prima Carnera, Italian title-holder, and Max Baer, Livermore, Calif., playboy. The fight is Thursday in Madison Square garden and it is going to be broadcast by the National Broadcasting Co. over a national chain.

The fight comes on the air at 9 o'clock Circleville time. The fight is the first worthwhile heavyweight bout since Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney staged the fiasco in which the latter was the recipient of the 14-count decision, some think, seven years ago.

GRAHAM McNAMEE WILL HANDLE THE MICROPHONE FOR THE NEC FORCES.

Exhibition games are being booked by many of the local recreation ball teams. The Mecca outfit goes to Stoutsville tonight to meet a pretty good team. Cum Robinson has also scheduled an exhibition in Columbus this week. Friday evening, providing there are no postponed games in the league this week, will find a Chillicothe team coming here to meet the Container corporation.

TWO OF THE BEST LEFT fielders in the league will vie for honors tonight with Joe Barnes performing for the Circleville Oils and John Valentine for the Eshelman Feeds. Both have been playing good ball with the latter possibly shading the Oil gardner in games played to date. It is also possible Barnes will climb on the mound so that would eliminate the contest.

A number of local grunt and groan fans intend to go to Columbus Wednesday evening to witness the wrestling card at Al Hart's acre.

HURST TO CHICAGO, CAMILLI TO PHILS

CHICAGO, June 12.—Don Hurst, veteran Philadelphia National league first baseman, traded uniforms with the Cubs' rookie, Dolph Camilli, today for the opener of a series between the teams at Wrigley Field.

It was an even exchange that resulted in the two clubs swapping first basemen. President William Walker of the Cubs announced.

Although Hurst has a six year batting average of .305 the two players were hitting about the same, around .260 when the trade was made. Hurst hit .339 in 150 games in 1932 for his best mark in the majors, but fell off last season to .267.

Because Manager Charley Grimm is still suffering from a leg injury Hurst was expected to be put right to work today at first base. Camilli came to the Cubs at the close of last season from Sacramento and has been acting as understudy to Grimm, but the Cubs' manager decided it was explained that he needed a player of greater experience as reserve for the position.

J., enroute to Syracuse, its first stop. The plane was piloted by Capt. Clyde Holbrook, lower left, and "Pat" Barron, lower right, co-pilot. Stewardess Margaret Huckleby, right, was the third member of the crew. All died in the crash.

ASSEMBLY JOB

district is an agricultural and industrial district. Its citizens are intelligent and dependable and stand for high American ideals.

"My experience in farming and business together with my knowledge of administration of public affairs, I believe equips me particularly to serve the people of the Eleventh district and the country at large."

If nominated and elected I shall serve all the people of the district to the best of my ability."

Mr. Dunlap will be opposed for the Republican nomination by Thomas White, of Fairfield-co., who has already filed with the Ross-co board. It is necessary petitions for district elections be filed in Ross-co since that county is the greatest populated of the district.

State Senator James E. Ford, of Chillicothe, who will oppose Garrett S. Claypool, also of that city, for the nomination of state central committee-man from the 11th congressional district, comprising Pickaway-co., will also seek another term in the Ohio Senate.

He has filed his petition with the Ross-co board of elections. He represents the fifth and sixth senatorial districts.

John W. Hay, Harrison-twp., candidate for the Democratic nomination for his second term as county commissioner, filed his petition with the board of elections, Tuesday.

COMMITTEE TO

Probable votes for Tugwell are Senators Frazier (R) of North Dakota, and Shipstead (Farmer-Laborite) of Minnesota.

Despite the certainty of the result, as attested by the poll, Chairman Smith believes the committee will reject Tugwell.

"The hearing yesterday made me more against Dr. Tugwell than I was before," he declared. "His writings are radical and he knows little of practical farming. Why, he said he worked on the farm only during vacations from college."

Hatfield said he might alter his general policy of favoring confirmation of all presidential appointments.

"Dr. Tugwell is a super-fictionist, a misfit and should be eliminated," Hatfield asserted. "I was amazed that he repudiated statements made in his book published in May, 1933."

Proponents of Tugwell, however, said he had convinced the committee there was no reason to withhold his confirmation.

There was little likelihood of an immediate Senate vote on confirmation. Objection of only one member will suffice to delay a vote for 24 hours under the rules.

POSTPONE SOCIAL

HUMMEL JOINS RACE

TAKE BODIES FROM PLANE

up the Hudson to Albany and then overland to Syracuse, his first scheduled stop. He probably hit the "soup" over Ulster-co. and swooped down low to fly under it rather than fly blind.

"He must have thought he had altitude enough to pass over Dunmear safely, for his plane was almost on the very summit."

"Not a person in that plane ever knew what happened. They must have been killed instantly. It was a merciful way to die."

Republican, labor and independent support, including endorsement from some farm districts.

NEW PRICES CHANGE THE PICTURE

If you read the papers last week you probably saw that Plymouth had substantially reduced its prices.

Unless you are in the automobile business you probably don't realize just what this means.

It means the prices of "all three" are now so close you can well afford to dismiss that factor from your mind. What you should think about today is WHAT YOU GET FOR YOUR MONEY.

For instance, take this question of SAFETY. Surely nothing is more important than the protection of your family.

When you put your foot on the brakes you want your car to stop RIGHT IN ITS TRACKS.

When emergencies happen you don't want to depend on ordinary brakes that often make your car skid and swerve dangerously.

With Hydraulic Brakes you can jam the pedal down to the floor and STOP DEAD. The marks on the pavement will track straight ahead.

Even if Plymouth COST MORE it would be worth it... just for this one feature alone. But add to this the security of a Safety-Steel Body... the comfort of Floating Power engine mountings... the smoother ride of Individual Front Wheel Springing... and remember you get these features in Plymouth without spending one extra red cent.

Don't buy your next car through habit. Don't be blind to the changes that have taken place in the low price field. Go look at a Plymouth today... at any Dodge, DeSoto or Chrysler dealer. Buy no car until you do.

Highway Patrol Districts Now 4

COLUMBUS, June 12.—With the approval of the governor and of State Highway Director O. W. Merrill, Col. Lynn Black, state highway patrol superintendent, today re-divided the state into four highway patrol districts. Originally there were six at Toledo, Ravenna, Sidney, Delaware, Cambridge and Chillicothe.

Under the new arrangement the four districts will have headquarters in Findlay, Massillon, Wilmington and Athens. These districts will include the following patrol outposts, or sub-stations: Findlay district—Defiance, Perrysburg, Bellevue, Marion and Lima.

Massillon district—Mansfield, Medina, Painesville, Warren, Salem, Bridgeport and Newark.

Wilmington district—Middle-town, Troy, Springfield and Portsmouth.

Athens district—Chillicothe, Lancaster, Zanesville and Marietta.

Colonel Black said the re-division was made because of the geographical advantage afforded in providing uniform coverage of the state in the operation of the patrol radio system.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

The Kingfish doesn't hesitate to blurt out what most Senators dare only to think, or a few of the more daring whisper in the secrecy of the cloakroom.

Call it gall, or what you will, but when Huey roars into action the lid goes off and stays off.

His recent castigation of Senator Pat Harrison, during which he calmly bantered charges that a closed bank held a large unpaid note of the Mississippi, was a characteristic example.

The outburst violated every Senate rule and tradition. All of which bothered Huey none at all.

When the fact was called to his attention, he nonchalantly replied that of course he wanted to abide by the rules, but turned to another line of attack on Pat.

During the debate on the President's reciprocal tariff bill Huey resorted to his favored tactics. Member after member had explained at great length, and with pontifical solemnity what a delicate and complicated thing the tariff was.

But not Huey. To the blinking horror of the chamber he orated as follows:

"There is no hocus-pocus about this tariff. I vote for your copper and you vote for my sugar. That's the way it's done. It was the spirit of the Scripture that caused a man to give his brother a tariff, particularly when he needed his brother's vote to get a tariff for himself."

Merry-Go-Round

The President's signature on the Reciprocal Tariff Act was hardly dry when German Ambassador Luther turned up at the State Department to suggest a trade deal.

Over 20 nations, most of them Latin-American, have also put in bids for similar agreements.

The "platform" framed by the Republican National Committee at its recent Chicago confab was largely the work of Corona-Corona smoking Ogden L. Mills.

The former Secretary of the Treasury worked practically all of one night on the document and wrote almost every line himself.

When New York newspapers carried a "dope" story that Sidney P. Weinberg, was being considered for the new Stock Market Board, he rushed to the Capital to see what his chances really were.

Lonely Insull at Funerals

A lonely figure in the Chicago circles where he once reigned as utilities czar, Samuel Insull, right, is pictured at the funeral of James Keeley, Pullman company vice president and famous ex-news paper editor. Out on $250,000 bail, highest sum in Chicago court history, white-haired Insull, who was brought back to the United States after a spectacular flight abroad, awaits trial in federal court on charges of embezzlement.

everyone that he really couldn't afford to take the job, he admitted that if the President insisted he would, of course, make the "sacrifice."

Jim Landis, who probably will head the Stock Market Board, is the son of a Presbyterian Minister, led his class at Princeton, was a pupil of Felix Frankfurter at Harvard Law School, and is one of the best bridge players in the capital.
